WHY DENTAL IMPLANTS?

A missing tooth can affect everything from your self-confidence to the integrity of your bite. Just one space left behind after a dental extraction can lead to other teeth shifting out of place.

In the past, replacing your tooth meant reshaping healthy teeth to anchor a bridge in place, or wearing a removable denture. Thanks to modern advancements, dental implants have revolutionized the way modern patients are rehabilitating their smiles.

Implants have a 98% success rate, making them more predictable than any other dental treatment. Most of them last a lifetime.

IMPLANT ANATOMY

The design of dental implants makes them a minimally-invasive solution that mimics the anatomy of natural teeth.

These restorations have three parts:

The Abutment

On top of your dental implant, an abutment extends just above the gum tissues. This provides a secure surface for the restoration to be affixed in place. When your teeth are being replaced, your implant restoration may be a crown, bridge, or even a full denture. Implants are incredibly

The Fixed Restoration

Depending on how many teeth strong, so it's not always necessary to have one implant per missing tooth; they can often be used in pairs.

The Implant

The "root" of your new tooth. An implant is made of biocompatible materials like titanium or zirconia, which fuse with the bone. The entire implant is submerged below the gumline.

THE TREATMENT EXPERIENCE

The Consultation: This is an opportunity for you to meet both Dr. Goldberg and his staff, in order to discuss your particular situation. During this 40 minute, free, and no-obligation meeting, you will be able to discuss your concerns and goals. You will receive options, advantages & disadvantages of those options, and estimated financial investments.

The Exam: When you choose to move forward with treatment, the next step will be to perform a comprehensive examination with related procedures to ensure no detail has been missed. Related procedures may include films, photos, and impressions.

The Implant Placement and Integration: Your implants are placed into the jaw in specific locations. This triggers new bone growth, which fuses the implant permanently into place (osseointegration.)

The Restoration Phase: Once your implants have integrated with the jaw and healing is complete, the fixed restoration can be attached.

Depending on your situation, some treatments happen in a day, while others are phased out over the course of several months.

THE BENEFITS OF DENTAL IMPLANTS

Most dentists regard dental implants as the gold standard of tooth replacement treatment.

Thanks to implants, you can...

Enjoy a cost-effective treatment that outlasts other types of dental therapies

Restore your bite with a treatment that is modeled after natural tooth anatomy

Avoid invasive procedures that require altering healthy tooth structure on adjacent teeth

Stabilize removable prosthetics, such as dentures

Speak more clearly, as there are no bulky appliances involved

Eat with confidence; your implants won't slip out of place

Enhance the strength of your jaw and preserve natural tooth spacing

Care for your smile as if it were real teeth

TYPES OF IMPLANT TREATMENT

Because dental implants can be used throughout the mouth, they make it possible to restore as few or as many teeth as necessary.

Single Tooth Replacement: The traditional implant design involves a single implant “root” with a customized dental crown over the abutment.

Fixed Implant Bridges: Instead of wearing a removable partial denture, it’s possible to have an extended dental bridge anchored on top of dental implants.

Implant Stabilized Dentures and Overdentures: When you need to replace all of your upper or lower teeth at once, you can choose to have your denture affixed over as few as four implants for all-day-long wear. *Please Note: Dr. Goldberg has another eBook dedicated to this subject. PAYING FOR YOUR PROCEDURE

Dental implants may seem like a slightly larger investment, but they last longer than any other modern treatment. This makes them both cost-effective and predictable.

The final cost of your implant procedure will depend on factors like:

- The number of implants necessary
- The type of implant restoration that you choose
- Any additional surgeries that may be needed (such as bone grafting, dental extractions, or sinus lifts)
- Your insurance benefits

During your consultation, we'll formulate a treatment plan that outlines all of the costs involved, as well as other options to choose from.

Financing plans are often available at 0% or low-interest rates, so that you can begin treatment as soon as possible. Schedule your no-pressure consultation today to learn more.

EXPERIENCE, COMPASSION, & QUALITY

Experience:

Dr. Goldberg has been practicing general, cosmetic, & implant dentistry for years. He is one of approximately 500 dentists in the world to hold the title of Diplomate of the American Board of Oral Implantology / Implant Dentistry. He is a Fellow or Diplomate of numerous other organizations, holds leadership positions in these groups, trains dentists regarding dental implants, and constantly attends numerous seminars to stay on top of the latest information.

Dr. Goldberg is a Scholar of the Dawson Academy for Comprehensive Dentistry. This Academy makes “great dentists even better,” and to become a Scholar shows commitment & dedication to the field of dentistry. Treating complex situations takes significant insightfulness and training, and the Dawson Academy provides this experience.

Compassion:

Dr. Goldberg and his staff have been treating patients for many years. They understand the fear and intimidation of dental work. Everyone in the office ensures your comfort is our #1 priority. We offer soothing amenities including television, Pandora radio, and nitrous oxide. For very nervous patient, we can even offer multiple sedation options.

Quality & Service:

Dr. Goldberg uses the highest quality products and offers unparalleled service. The marketplace for material and supplies is enormous, and the office is diligent in selection and sourcing.

Economics:

Dr. Goldberg is sensitive to the high cost of living and makes every effort to maintain reasonable fees.

Our office discusses multiple options you may have, rather than a “one size fits all” approach. This relates to experience: Dr. Goldberg has been performing dentistry for a very long time, and is very insightful.

People often struggle over the financials; if this is one of your concerns, we will address it. We have multiple financing options to help you restore your dental health to the level you want and deserve.

PATIENT TESTIMONIALS

“My daughter needed an implant in place of an abscessed tooth. My wife and I were very concerned about this and started an exhaustive search for the facility and a dentist that we trusted and that had an impeccable reputation. Ira Goldberg’s name continually surfaced. The clincher was when my dentist told me that she herself had only two cavities in her life and Ira Goldberg was the dentist she trusted to perform the fillings. This was one of the best decisions we ever made. Doctor Goldberg’s work was flawless.”

- Edward Card

“I am a retired medical doctor. I recognize superior dental/medical care, especially when I am the patient. I came to Dr. Ira Goldberg with many dental issues and I have been very happy with the professional level of treatment received. His extensive formal training and credentials are noted. Dr. Goldberg is an excellent surgeon and uses the latest state of the art technology and treatment. He pays attention to detail and the patient knows he cares. He has a congenial personality. Also, he explains what he is doing in a manner that the patient can understand. Dr. Goldberg is much aware of cosmetics as the artist he is. In addition, he is the most gentle dentist that I have ever encountered.

The office is modern, comfortable and very clean. The staff is very competent and caring. I highly recommend Dr. Ira Goldberg.”

- Dr. Robert Siegel, NJ

“This doctor is phenomenal. Trust me. Never settles for anything less than the best treatment possible for his patients. Never had a dentist as talented and compassionate about dental care than Doc Goldberg. Truly amazing in what he does. Constantly pursuing perfection.”

- Bob F., Blairstown, NJ

PATIENT TESTIMONIALS

“ I can't thank you enough for so generously opening up your office and sharing this "All On Four" surgical procedure. The entire day was just unbelievable. As a dental laboratory owner, I have never observed a live dental surgery. You are truly a master. I did not want to miss a second of watching you so confidently and precisely extract teeth, place six implants, complete the conversion process of a denture into fixed teeth, stitch, and place the temporary screw-retained appliance. And finally, exchange an embrace with a very happy patient who just underwent hours of a serious dental procedure.

Your desire and willingness to share your knowledge is invaluable. It is obvious by the way you and your assistants worked together seamlessly throughout this at times, very intense procedure, like a well-oiled machine.

It did not go unnoticed how you and your team respect and count on the other member's roles in the process, but also are capable of jumping in on other areas if necessary.
